CONTINUUM
2007

Wine Advocate #192, Dec. 2010 | Reviewer: Robert Parker

Drink: Today, tomorrow and forever | Current (Release) Cost: $143-185 (140)

RATING: 98 | Akin to the seamlessness of haute couture from the likes of Chanel, the integration of acidity, tannin, alcohol and wood has been brilliantly accomplished by Mondavi. This textured, opulent, full-bodied wine cuts a lacy, graceful texture across the palate. A tour de force in winemaking, it is a profound wine. Drinkable now, drinkable in ten years and exquisite in two decades, it is not to be missed.

97 POINTS | June 30, 2010 | 1500 cases made | Red | $140

A wonderful expression of Cabernet, sleek and polished with a mix of rich, layered black cherry, currant, wild berry and plum fruit that's intense, concentrated, focused and stylish, turning spicy with cedary anise and sage notes on a long, persistent finish. Cabernet Sauvignon, Cabernet Franc and Petit Verdot. Drink now through 2010. From California. -J.L.

Feels fancy and important in the mouth, with pure, refined tannins housing ripe, complex flavors. Very rich and layered. A great addition to the Napa cult pantheon. -Steve Heimoff

94 POINTS | Steven Tanzer's International Wine Cellar, Issue 150: May/June 2010

Perfumed aromas of blackberry, cassis, crushed rock, licorice and bitter chocolate, all lifted by a violet top note. Supple, pliant and concentrated, and quite graceful. Very young and built to age. Drink: 2011-2041.

The 2007 Continuum comes primarily from the To Kalon site, with about 15 percent from the estate. It's hefty, lavish and packed with graphite, black olive and peppery Franc aromatics, plus deep kirsch and black cherry - the To Kalon signature of rich black fruit. Continuum is a well-executed powerhouse.

Continuum is the single best thing that I've put in my mouth all year, a wine that I have a distinct taste memory for and a wine that I scored a 95. It's a wine that's rich and decadent, yet finely wrought and obviously built for the long haul.
